

Biographical Sketch of Kathleen Buescher-Milligan

B.A. Psychology – University of Texas, 1971
Master of Social Work – University of Michigan, 1978
M.S., Library & Information Science – University of Illinois, 2010

Kathleen was born in Beech Grove, Indiana, in 1949. She lived in Indiana, Missouri and Texas as a child. As an adult, she went to school or worked in Michigan, Ohio and Missouri. She has two younger brothers who live in Texas with their families. When she was 15, she joined a team of teenagers on a month-long medical mission to Honduras inoculating people against polio.

She grew up knowing Jesus as Savior; came to know him as Lord when she was 33. Kathleen met her husband, David Milligan, at Clayton Community Church in 1991. They were married the next year. They now attend Cornerstone Evangelical Free Church in Webster Groves, MO. After a 30-year career in not-for-profit management, Kathleen left to pursue an encore career in library science. She joined the faculty at Brookes Bible Institute in August, 2010, as the librarian. She has two stepchildren and seven grandchildren living in O'Fallon, MO, and Madison, OH.
